NAREE's Book Awards are named for the late Bob Bruss, syndicated real estate columnist, prolific writer, and longtime NAREE leader and mentor who enjoyed reviewing real estate books and was instrumental in building NAREE membership for many years.

The awards program was created to recognize the excellence manifested in the work of real estate authors on an annual basis. Books focusing on the broad field of real estate including mortgage finance; home buying and selling; the business of real estate; government housing policy; green building; urban design; investing; architecture; and construction are expected among myriad other topics. The awards program is being funded by grants from NAREE's late Past President, Leigh Robinson and his late wife, Ivy of Express Publishing. NAREE Past President Brad Inman of Inman News and in-kind donations from the NAREE Board of Directors and Past Presidents.

Awards Presentation

Winners will be notified in May so they can make plans to attend NAREE's Brass Book Awards Presentation during NAREE's Spring Conference. Details on www.naree.org Certificates and award checks will be made out to the author or author's designatee on the application and awarded at the NAREE Awards Program. Those not present will be mailed awards. Award winners will be posted on www.naree.org and in the NAREE News after the Spring Conference.

Judging

The entire book and the selection of 5,000 words from the book will be sent to a panel of three qualified judges. Judges may elect to read only the 5,000 words or the entire book. Judges score each book on the following six attributes:

- Originality
- Coverage of subject
- Accuracy
- Readability
- Scholarship
- Design

Each winner will receive a certificate and cash award:

Gold.....$1000
Silver$500
Bronze$250
Best First-time Author.....$250

Eligibility

1. The book must be published in English and have been released for sale during 2016.
2. The book must fit into the "real estate book" category as determined by NAREE. Books also may be "E Books" of book length.
3. Some or all of the book may have been published previously as magazine or newspaper articles or as website content. Same title may not be submitted more than once.
4. The competition is open to all real estate authors regardless of NAREE membership.
